

Joint master`s degree programme - Agri-Food Business Management

The aim of the study programme is to provide students with knowledge and skills relevant for the requirements of the industry / labour market in agriculture and food processing industry, bio-economy, leadership, business and administration, finances, international marketing

<https://www.llu.lv/en/article/degree-programme-agri-food-business-management>

Academic study programme - Information Technologies

Nowadays the development of all sectors of economic and scientific activities is closely related to the application of Information Technologies (IT). The programme is oriented towards the following applications of IT in the interdisciplinary trends: Computerized production control systems, Systems analysis and Information technologies in biosystems.

https://www.llu.lv/en/information_technologies

Academic study programme - Agricultural Engineering

One of the most important sources of citizens' well-being is manufacturing therefore presence of high qualified specialists at producing industries is an important pre-condition for every country's sustainability. The Master study programme of Agricultural Engineering offers two specialisation options: Vehicles and Service and Power Engineering.

https://www.llu.lv/en/agricultural_engineering

Professional study programme - Career Counsellor

This programme provides students with knowledge in career counseling and management of career development in multicultural environment of education and employment. The studies are based on a dynamic and innovative knowledge provided by experienced knowledgeable and responsive academic staff as well as open and friendly study environment.

<https://www.llu.lv/en/career-counsellor>

Academic study programme - Food Science

The programme is aimed to educate academically educated specialists and new scientists with creative thought and competence to make decisions for promoting future development of food science and food production in Europe, competitiveness in foreign markets.

https://www.llu.lv/en/food_science

Professional study programme - Food Hygiene

The study programme is aimed to educate highly qualified and creative specialists – Professional Masters with specialization in food hygiene with competence to work in the establishments of food chain as well as in the state services.

https://www.llu.lv/en/food_hygiene

Professional study programme - Business Management

This programme is aimed to promote students with knowledge in business, resource management, management processes, finance and regional economics. The study programme consists of compulsory courses, elective courses and practical training.

https://www.llu.lv/en/business_management

Academic study programme - Sociology of Organizations and Public Administration

The programme aims to educate highly qualified specialists for managerial posts in organizations of public and private sectors as well as for research institutions. The study programme ensures the student-centred approach to the study process which allows students to develop their theoretical and empirical knowledge, skills and competence for the in-depth analysis of the contemporary social processes, organizational performance and issues of public administration.

https://www.llu.lv/en/sociology_of_organizations_public_administration

Professional study programme - Landscape Architecture and Planning

The aim of the study programme is to provide students with knowledge and skills necessary for the work in landscape architecture as qualified specialists who are able to carry out research activities, analysis, development planning, maintenance, revitalization and management of territory improvement and greenery arrangement of landscapes, public outdoor space and private outdoor space independently or in a team.

<https://www.llu.lv/en/landscape-architecture>